Web Site Terms and Permitted Uses

Access to and use of the Town of Oxford's web site is provided subject to the following terms and conditions. Please read these terms carefully as use of this site constitutes acceptance of the terms and conditions. The Town of Oxford views the use of its web site and the provision of links to external web sites as a public service that can benefit its citizens and other site visitors. Overall, the Town's web site should provide useful information and reflect a positive and inspiring image of the Town of Oxford to citizens and visitors. The Town Board members will select links to external web sites to the extent the links help support these goals. Links on the Town of Oxford web site should also satisfy a governmental purpose. In particular, the Town Board members will consider providing links to sites that promote and protect the public health, safety, and welfare. The Webmaster reserves the right to determine where external links will appear on its website. Any communication or material transmitted from the site is non-confidential and subject to public disclosure. The provision of a link to any site is not an endorsement of said organization. The Town is not responsible for the content of any linked site or any link contained in a linked site. The Town of Oxford's web site will not provide links to:

- Site promoting illegal activities
- Sexually explicit site
- Site containing information that violated any of the Town of Oxford's affirmative action or equal opportunities policies
- External advertising

Links to the Town of Oxford Web Page

It is possible you reached this site through a link from another Web page. The Town of Oxford cannot control the sites that choose to provide a link to this page. For that reason, the Town cannot, and does not, necessarily endorse the content on any other Web page that might contain a link to the Town's site. The Town's web site contains links to other related World Wide Web Internet sites and resources. These links are provided as an information service only. Please know that if links connect to any part of the Town's web site other than the first page, the information contained on the page may be displayed in a non-usable format.

Disclaimer of Reliability and Damages

The Town strives to present current and accurate information on its web site, but does not guarantee accuracy or currency of the information. In particular, the Town of Oxford, its officers, employees, agents and assigns make no warranty, express or implied, and assumes no legal liability or responsibility for the accuracy, completeness, or usefulness of any information on the web site. The town web site has links to other web sites. These may include links to web sites operated by other government agencies, nonprofit organizations and private businesses. When you link to another site, you are no longer on the Town's web site and the Town's web site policy will not apply. The town information and related graphics published on the web site could contain technical inaccuracies or typographical errors. The Town of Oxford makes no representations or warranties regarding the condition or functionality of the web site, its suitability for use, or that this Web service will be uninterrupted or error free. By using the Town of Oxford web pages, the user assumes all risks associated with the use of this site including any risk to your computer, software, or data being damaged by any virus, software or any other file transmitted or activated via a Town of Oxford web page. The Town of Oxford shall not be liable for any special, incidental, or consequential damages, including, without limitation, lost revenues or lost profits resulting from the use or misuse of the information contained in the Town of Oxford web pages.

Communication to the Town of Oxford

Communications to the Town via the web site shall in no manner be deemed to constitute legal or official notice to the Town of Oxford, its departments, officers, employees, representatives or agents with respect to any existing, pending or future claim or cause of action against the Town of Oxford or any of its departments, officers, employees, representatives or agents where notice is required by Federal, State or local law. Nor shall communications to the Town via the web site be deemed to constitute legal or official notice for any other purpose.

Official Records of the Town of Oxford

Unless specifically notes, the information on the web site is not official. Information contained on this site is for the convenience of the user, and is not generally an official record of the Town. It is provided as a service to those needing information about the Town of Oxford, its government, and some of the Town's activities, policies, regulations, ordinances, minutes and agendas which are published as a convenience to users. Although every effort is made to ensure accuracy when placing items on the web site, official information must be provided by the offices and departments of the Town.

Disclaimer of Duty to Continue

Due to the dynamic nature of the Internet, resources that are free and publicly available one day may require a fee or restricted access the next and the location of items may change as menus, homepages and files are reorganized. The Town's web site is updated monthly by the Town Clerk or Town Treasurer in their respective offices, or as necessary when information becomes available. The Town Board members are ultimately responsible for the Town web site content and Town information. Town Board member's names, personal addresses and phone numbers will be displayed on the web site unless a written request is submitted to the Town Clerk or Town Treasurer to omit that information. Email addresses of members will be included only at the request of the Town Board members.
